CLEARFIELD, MAY 14, 1862.

WESTEAN COURTSHIP. An amusing incident, says the Virsqua, (Wisconsin,) Expositor, occurred in this locality this week : A young gentleman of the village, who is considerably troubled with calico proclivities, concluded to pass the entire evening with one of the fair sex in the country. On arriving he found the family all seated at the supper table; and the old gentleman of the house, after having finished his supper, very politely invited our young gallant to sup. Now to withhold the name of the individual in question must cause no "scruples" as to the truthfulness of the story. He picked up an old tashloned fire shovel and slipped a Anger in the "ring" or curl of the handle; and his finger having become so swollen that he could not extricate it, he of course was compelled to decline the kind offer. After discovering his predicament, | 244 and not desiring to leave his finger with his sweet heart or to carry away the shovel, our fast young man mus- | 899 tered courage enough to draw forth | 281 his finger from the vise, leaving 165 quite a quantity of "hide" in the | 251 aforementioned curl of the shovel.

Now our young gallant, although, as before stated, he had excused himself from participating in the evening festival, was as the sequal will show, somewhat desirous of a little refreshment, for, after all had retired except himself and the object of his visit, he excused himself from her presence for a few moments, and resurned to the kitchen, found a pot of | 330 158 emush and milk," and availing bim- | 296 125 self of the chance, picked up the pot | 328 153 -there being no spoon within his 215 reach-and commenced throwing himself outside of the luxury as fast as possible, when the old gentleman, hearing the racket amongst the kitchen utensils, made straight for that apartment, expecting to find old Growler enjoying himself to his hearts satisfaction. Our friend having a delicacy about being caught with a big iron pot at his mouth, tried to make his disappearance from the apartment "double quick" time; but the pot bail, unfortunately for our sprightly man, fell over his head, the "mush and milk" oozing all over his head and shoulders, much to the chagrin of the poor

After being released by a kind and intended father-in-law, our young friend returned home with soiled hat and coat, determined never again to visit the scene of so much trouble in one night.

HARD SHELL SERMON ._ "My brethren," said a hard shell preacher who was holding forth one Sunday, "if a man's full of religion you can't hurt him. There was three Arabian children-they put 'em in a fiery furnace hetted seven times hotter than it could be het, and it didn't singe a hair on their heads. And there was John the Evangeler they put himand where do you think, brethren and sisters, they put him? Why they put him into a chaldronic of bilin' ile, and biled him all night, and it didn't faze his shell. And there was Daniel-they put him into a lion's den. And what, my fellow travellers and respected auditors, do you think he was put into the lion's den for? Why, for praying three times a day. Don't be alarmed, brethren and sisters; I don't think any of you will ever get into a lion's den!"

A SMART YANKEE GIRL .- We relate a true story, which is a gratifying instance of successful Yankee enterprise. A young girl, belonging to a respectable family in reduced circumstances, four years ago learned to operate sewing machines, and then went to Peru to teach the art to Spanish girls, and to establish a business in that country. She has since enjoyed uniform good health, and has realized between three and four thousand dollars a year beyond her expenses. About a year ago, she married a wealthy old Spaniard, who, dying, bequeathed to her a fortune of eighty thousand dollars, and thus placed her in comfortable and independent circumstances. She now writes to her relatives to emigrate to Peru and share her good fortune.

Pat was belping Mr. Blank to get a safe into his office one day, and not being acquainted with the article, inquired what it was for.

"To prevent papers and other articles which are placed in it from being burnt in case of fire;" said Mr. | 200

"An' sure will nothing ever burn that is put in that thing?" questioned Pat. "No."

"Well, thin, your honor, ye'd bet- 156 114 ter be after getting into that same thing when ye die." Mr. Blank "wilted."

The Richmond 'Whig' intimates that some of the rebel leaders are "hanging back." They ought not to hang back or to hang forward but to haug perpendicularly.

The Scriptures speak of men's asking for bread and receiving a stone. The rebels call for sait and get pepered. They think they get the wrong condiment.

It is impossible to look at the sleepers in church without being reminded that Sunday is a day of rest.

On the seventh of September, 1861, THE

NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE commenced the twenty-first year of its existence; the THE DAI-LY TRIBUNE being some months older and THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE somewhat younger. For more than twenty years, this journal has la-bored in what its conductors have felt to be the cause of Humanity, Justice and Freedom, endeav oring to meliorate the condition of the oppressed and unfortunate, to honor and encourage useful exertion in whatever sphere, and, to promote by all means the moral, intellectual and material advancement of our country. It has aimed to be right rather than popular, and to espouse and commend to-day the truth that others may not be willing to accept till to-morrow. In pursuing and faults committed; but, having in all things incited our readers to think and judge for themselves rather than adopt blindly our own or others' conclusions, we believe we may fairly claim for this journal the credit of having qualified its readers to detect and expose even its own errors. To develop the minds of the young by the most general, thorough and practical Education, and to encourage and stimulate Productive Industry, through free grants of Public Lands to actual settlers and cultivators, as also through the protection of immature or peculiarly exposed branches from too powerful foreign competition, are among the aims to which this journal has adhered through good and evil report, and which it steadfastly commends to American patriotism and

As to the Civil War now devastating our country, we hold it to have originated in a Rebellion more wanton, wicked, inexcusable, then was ever before known-a Rebellion in the interest of the few against the many-a Rebellion designed to raise higher the walls of caste and tighten the chains of oppression. Having done all we could without a surrender of vital principle to avoid this War and witnessed the forbearance, meek ness, and long-suffering with which the Federal Government sought to avert its horrors, we hold it our clear duty, with that of every other citizen to stand by the nation and its fairly chosen ru lers, and to second with all our energies their ef forts to uphold the Union, the Constitution, and the supremacy of the laws. And, though the Rebellion has become, through usurpation, deception, terroism, and spoilation, fearfully strong, we believe the American Republic far stronger, and that the unanimous, earnest efforts of loyal hearts and hands will insure its overthrow. But on all questions affecting the objects, the scope, and duration of this most extraordinary contest, we defer to those whom the American People have clothed with authority, holding unity of purpose 8 12 and of action indispensable in so grave an emer-

> In a crisis like the present, our columns must be largely engrossed with the current history of the War for the Union, and with elucidations of its more striking incidents. We shall not, however, remit that attention to Literature, to Foreign Affairs, to Agricultural Progress, to Crops. Markets, &c., which has already, we trust, won for THE TRIBUNE an honorable position among its cotemporaries. Our main object is and shall be to produce a comprehensive newspaper, from which a careful reader may glean a vivid and faithful history of the times, not merely in the domain of Action but in that of Opinion also. As our facilities for acquiring information increase with years, we trust that an improvement in the contents of our journal is perceptible, and that, in the variety and fulness of intelligence afforded, we may still hope to 'make each day a critic on the last.'' In this hope, we solicit a continu ance of the generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to our journal. TERMS.
